FOREWORD

The BC Labour Directory is an annual publication of the Policy and Planning Branch of the Ministry of Labour which compiles information with respect to membership and officials of collective bargaining organizations in the province. The reference date for statistical information is January 1, 1985.

Information for this publication is obtained by means of a survey mailed to all British Columbia unions early in the year. Every effort is made to obtain accurate and up-to-date information. The reliability of the information depends mainly on the accuracy of the respondents.

Particular attention is drawn to the union index at the end of the publication. Since some unions have locals with distinct and different names, and some unions are known by short names or initialisms, this index is included to serve as a finding guide to the union listing including full and short forms, initialisms and local names.

We wish to thank all those who cooperated during the gathering of the information that went into the preparation of the BC Labour Directory. In the event that errors or omissions are discovered, it would be appreciated if they were brought to our attention. The publication was produced by staff members Sharon Churchill, Janet Foster and Patrick Stanton.

UNION MEMBERSHIP SUMMARY — 1985

As of January 1, 1985 total trade union membership in British Columbia stood at 466,864. This represents a 4.4 per cent decrease from the 1983 total; no survey was conducted in 1984. The estimated proportion of paid workers who are union members was 42.5 per cent in 1985, down from 45.3 per cent in 1983. This is a similar level of unionization to that recorded in the 1980 survey, and earlier in the 1971-72 period. The peak level was experienced in 1958 when 55.4 per cent of British Columbia paid workers were unionized.

The total number of union members has declined to approximately the same level as in 1979. Over half of all unions in the province have experienced membership losses during the last two years. The largest absolute decline since the previous survey was experienced by the B.C. Government Employees' Union (9,116). The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners also sustained a substantial membership loss (3,613), as well as the Hotel and Restaurant Union (2,462). There were thirteen major unions with 2,000 or more members which have experienced proportional declines in excess of 10 per cent over this period.

The relative ranking of unions by size has changed very little from 1983 to 1985. The largest union again is the B.C. Government Employees' Union (41,081), followed by the International Woodworkers of America (33,719), and the B.C. Teachers' Federation (32,725). Altogether, as was the case in 1983, 21 unions had 5,000 or more members in 1985.

The number of female trade union members increased by 0.4 per cent to 159,229 members from 1983 to 1985, while male membership declined by 6.7 per cent to 307,635. Women comprised 34.1 per cent of total union membership up from 32.5 per cent in 1983. The number and proportion of female union membership may have been under-estimated due to the inability of some unions to provide male-female breakdowns. Unionized women represented 33.8 per cent of the overall paid female work force. The provincial male paid work force, by comparison, was 49.1 per cent unionized. Female membership was concentrated in 21 unions which had 1,000 or more female members, led by the B.C. Government Employees' Union (22,546 female members), the Hospital Employees' Union (20,000), the B.C. Teachers' Federation (18,527), the B.C. Nurses Union (18,338) and the Canadian Union of Public Employees (12,376).

On an industrial basis, the largest concentration of union membership was in Community Services which includes teachers and other education workers, health workers, and community service workers (other than municipal employees). The next highest concentration, 19.8 per cent was in Manufacturing, followed by the 15.8 per cent of union members involved in Public Administration (Federal, Provincial and Municipal).

For the first time a slight majority of union members were in the Trade and Service Sectors compared to the Goods Producing Sectors. The Trade and Service Sector has increased from 44.0 per cent of total union membership in 1980 to 50.7 per cent in 1985.

More than three quarters of all union members in British Columbia belong to unions affiliated with a national and/or international congress or confederation of unions. A total of 61.3 per cent of union members belonged to unions affiliated with the Canadian Labour Congress/B.C. Federation of Labour, of which 43 per cent were also affiliated to the American Federation of Labour/ Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The Confederation of Canadian Unions had 3.8 per cent of total affiliated members and the Canadian Confederation of Labour, representing workers in the construction sector, had 8.5 per cent of affiliated union members. Bargaining units not affiliated to any national federation or congress included 23.5 per cent of the union members.

Union Headquarters and Locals

UNION HEADQUARTERS AND LOCALS

This section contains membership and officer information for both headquarters and locals of unions in British Columbia. Entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the short name of the labour organizations although no official recognition of such abbreviated titles is intended. In those instances where a union's short name is derived from the initials of its full name, alphabetical listing is usually based on the first word in the full name. (For example CUPE comes under "Canadian Union" rather than under "CU").

Beneath the short and full title listing of each union is its affiliation, if any, to international and/or national congresses or federations. Abbreviations used are:

AFL-CIO —American Federation of Labor—
Congress of Industrial Organizations

CLC —Canadian Labour Congress

CFL —Canadian Federation of Labour

BC FED —British Columbia Federation of Labour

CCU —Confederation of Canadian Unions

AFL-CIO/CLC—affiliated with both bodies
